The smart way to run your car

ISSUE 51 / 2017

There are quite a few two wheel and even three wheelers in this issue for which we make no apologies. Bikes are great fun, are easy to park and cheap to run. So as it is still summer (just), why not take the plunge and learn how to ride a motorcycle? The patron saint of motorcyclists, Guy Martin gets a mention, although this year has been something of a wash out for our hero. As soon as he gets back on the stunt riding pillion we will have him on the cover. In the meantime, make do with our bike features, we don't pretend to be experts, but at least the pictures are nice.

Kingsman The Golden Circle. We loved the first one, not least because it was all about style and we are pleased to see that the new one is just as sharply suited. Indeed we insist on showing you how to get the look. This is also Taron Egerton's second time on our cover. Previously he was the less than sartorial Eddie the Eagle perched on top of a van. Luckily we show you how to get out of ill fitting ski wear and into a proper suit with our friends at Simon Carter.

We have a lot of cars of course, with an extra Buy Now section, plus we go on a MINI holiday which is nice, plus a whole heap of films and TV that have a car, or cars in them.

So four wheels good, and sometimes two wheels can be better and it is possible to make a strong case for a Reliant Regal. Sorry.

TOUR DE FRANCE VICTORY WITH FORD & FROOME

We do apologise for being a bit late on this one, but any British sporting victory is worth celebrating. It was the 26th July 2017 and a fourth Tour de France victory for Froome and the fifth for Team Sky. Team mate Mikel Landa also finished fourth in the general classification and Team Sky won the best overall team. Ford is Team Sky's exclusive supplier of cars and vans, and for the final stage of the race the Team Sky Ford Focus RS – a support vehicle for time-trial stages and a scouting car to reconnoitre stages – featured a special yellow livery, as did Mondeo estates used by Team Sky's sports directors. The entire fleet of Team Sky Ford support vehicles, which also includes Edge and Kuga SUVs, S-MAX sports activity vehicles, and Tourneo Custom and Transit vans, also featured a yellow stripe to replace the usual blue stripe.

"The Tour de France has once again captured the imagination of the world and we are delighted to be part of a winning team, our vehicles playing an integral role in helping Team Sky and Chris Froome to achieve another well-deserved victory," said Roelant de Waard, vice president, Marketing, Sales and Service, Ford of Europe. Ford has supplied Team Sky with vehicles since 2016 and earlier this year extended that partnership to continue through 2019.

ZARA TINDALL AND THE INVICTUS GAMES

Zara Tindall MBE said: "The Invictus Games is a very special event, and I've loved meeting all the competitors here today. It was really hard to select just two people to take part in the Driving Challenge in Toronto; each and every one of those we met has the will to win and would do a fantastic job. Once again, it's an absolute honour for me to be involved with Jaguar Land Rover and with the Invictus Games and I am really looking forward to watching these guys when they actually get to compete at the Games."

LEWIS MOODY AND THE INVICTUS GAMES

Lewis Moody added: "What an amazing day out supporting our Invictus heroes before they head out to Toronto to represent the UK on one of the biggest stages in the world. Jaguar Land Rover is clearly a great supporter of these guys, and having met some of them, the rest of the UK public should be too. They're real heroes and I've no doubt they'll do us proud come September 23rd. Jaguar Land Rover is continuing its support of Invictus Games in its role as presenting partner and proud sponsor of the UK Team for 2017 following the successful inaugural games in London 2014 and subsequent games in 2016. Since 2013, Jaguar Land Rover has hired over 200 former servicemen and servicewomen in the UK, working closely with the Career Transition Partnership, the Ministry of Defence's official provider of Armed Forces resettlement. The UK Team is delivered by a partnership between Help for Heroes, The Royal British Legion and the Ministry of Defence."

THE STYLISH STARS OF KINGSMAN - GIRLS

We have decided that the entire cast of Kingsman: The Golden Circle, are so well turned out that it would be a great idea to mostly look at the jackets they are wearing and trying to find their equivalents on the high street. We also threw Taron's E-type into the mix which is on the cover and in our hearts as the most obvious classic car to buy, provided you have a rather large six figure budget. As for the clothes, they are slightly cheaper. Clearly cowboy hats for men are going to be thing along with tough outerwear. Anyway, after you've seen the film you will probably want to act out your favourite scenes, so over the next few pages is your cut out and keep guide.

THE LIFE OF GUY

Everyone loves Guy Martin. He's a down to earth bloke who makes brilliant telly and is as brave as a motorcycling lion when risking his neck at the TT, however, 2017 hasn't gone entirely to plan.

Back in 2016 Guy Martin was involved in a land speed record attempt with Triumph.

Piloting the purpose built 1,000 bhp Triumph Rocket Streamliner, Isle of Man TT racer, truck mechanic Guy relished the prospect of bringing the land speed record back to Triumph - and the UK - after an absence of 45 years - become the world's fastest ever Triumph by achieving a speed of 274.2 mph at the Bonneville Salt Flats on 8 August, 2016. The streamliner smashed the previous official Triumph record that stood at 245.667 mph as well as the unofficial Triumph Record of 264mph, both set by Bob Leppan, in the Gyronaut X-1.

Near perfect conditions greeted the team on the final day of the team's land speed practice week. With confidence high after a successful number of days running on the salt at Bonneville the team's goal for the day with the Triumph Infor Rocket Streamliner was the Triumph record.

In 2017 Honda Motor Europe announced that Guy was part of their Road Racing assault at the North West 200 and Isle of Man TT in the Superbike classes.

"TT was a bloody disaster, aside from walking the dog and racing the Mugen, I didn't enjoy it," said Guy on his official website www.guymartinracing.co.uk/

"So I've not given up on racing or road racing, there's no unfinished business and I want to race classics and oddball stuff. All I've been thinking about recently is Pikes Peak and any spare time my brain has had is about Pikes Peak on 4 wheels. That job is down to me and if it doesn't work, it's my fault and I like that."

The great news is that Guy Martin is all geared up to do more of things that we love him for.

JASON KENNY

The legendary Olympic cyclist has obtained his ACU race licence, enabling him to enter a Kawasaki Team Green Cup race as a wildcard ride.

This will be the first time that Jason will have raced a powered two-wheeler competitively, a challenge he's extremely excited about: "Getting my ACU licence has got me even more excited about the race as I'm one step closer now and I'm looking forward to getting out on track. I was pretty excited anyway to be honest, but it's all taking shape. "Ahead of the race now, my plan is to get as much advice as possible from a few of the Kawasaki racers. It's going to be a great life experience – my goal is to go out there and enjoy it, get stuck in and have fun."

LEON HASLAM

According to the legend, "I can't wait to get to have a play on it! Kawasaki have been kind enough to build me a full racing bike – I've seen the odd picture of the bike as it's been built but to see it in the flesh now is awesome.

"I got into supermoto over the winter for training ahead of the British Superbike Championship. I train out in Spain with the Lowes twins – we ride pit bikes, motocross and supermoto – and was borrowing their bike, so I was keen to get one of my own. From my perspective, I'll be using it mainly for training. There's lots of good spots we go to in the UK too – we usually ride them on pit bikes so to attack them on a super KX450F will be good fun!"

THIS IS AMALZING

AMAL Carburettors
the “best in the business” says
Alp Racing & Design.
So what is the story?

AMAL has played a fundamental part in Alp Racing’s remarkable success over the years, with its carburettors heavily contributing to Alp’s seven SCTA records and three AMA national records.

Burlen Ltd – the world’s only manufacturer of genuine AMAL, Skinner’s Union (SU) and Zenith carburettors and parts – has worked closely with Alp Racing founder Alp Sungurtekin to cater to his AMAL needs, and he was full of praise for the way the Salisbury-based company do business.

“Burlen has taken AMAL carburettors to the next level in every single aspect, especially quality,” said Sungurtekin. “The precision of AMAL carbs is absolutely flawless, while we are also massive fans of the simplicity.

“We’ve used G.P Series AMAL carburettors for a number of our vintage class [pre-1956] record successes, including taking our Triumph 650 A-PF to a staggering 175.6mph. At the end of the day, speed is all about the efficiency of taking air in and pushing it out, and AMAL is the best in the business when it comes to that.

“The way that Burlen does things makes our lives so much easier, too, meaning we can push on to break new ground and continue to make a name for ourselves.”

Alp Racing & Design is certainly enhancing its reputation around the world with a series of staggering records, and it's got its eyes set on hitting dizzy new heights in 2017.

“We're currently building a brand new bike for the Bonneville Salt Flats this summer that will be the first of its kind in the vintage class and become a huge name in the land speed world. With the help of AMAL carbs – whose logo will be featured on the side of the bike – we hope to take this project over the 200mph mark. All Alp Racing Engines are built in-house by Alp and specs are proprietary, and we're very excited to put the finishing touches on this project and make history.”

“AMAL carburetors are the carburetors of records and successes – if you want to set pace benchmarks and achieve greatness around the world, then run AMAL.”

TRACK ATTACK

The whole point of having a motorbike is finding out what your limits are and the safest place to do that is on the track. Here's how Suzuki and Ducati do it.

Suzuki's annual all-star track day is back for 2017 and will again take place on Silverstone's prestigious GP circuit on Monday 4 September, with this year's attending stars including Bennetts Suzuki's Taylor Mackenzie, Sylvain Guintoli, and Richard Cooper, as well as Motovudu on-track instruction guru and 500 Grand Prix race-winner Simon Crafar.

Operating out of Silverstone's iconic Wing pit and paddock, the day will give Suzuki fans the chance to ride and receive some tuition from a range of Team Suzuki riders. The Bennetts Suzuki British Superbike team will be in attendance, with Taylor Mackenzie, Sylvain Guintoli, and National Superstock 1000 championship challenger, Richard Cooper. Buildbase Suzuki's Superbike rider Bradley Ray and Superstock contender Alex Olsen will also be on hand.

Suzuki legend and three-time British Superbike champion, John Reynolds, will be available to talk about his role in the development of the new GSX-R1000, while offering his advice and experience, alongside track instructors James Whitham, Simon Crafar, Glen Richards, and Dean Skipper.

Following his ride at Oliver's Mount onboard his father's world championship-winning Suzuki XR14s, Freddie Sheene will also be among the special guests.

Attendees on the day can book into one of three groups, based on their level of experience and ability, with all that come along getting a Suzuki gift bag.

Places cost £199, and can be booked here: <https://shop.silverstone.co.uk/>

A unique experience dedicated to all 500 purchasers of the stunning Superleggera, sold out before it even went into production.

A special gift, an invitation taken up by no less than 193 Ducatisti who were, in turn, accompanied by over 160 guests. Divided into four groups, they came to the Tuscan circuit from 32 countries and were welcomed in a specially reserved paddock featuring the Aruba.it Racing-Ducati Team's hospitality facility. A series of pits were set up for the event, including two "official" pits where Chaz Davies and Marco Melandri's bikes were waiting to be tried out.

Sounds like a great event.

BESPOKE

The BMW motorcycles are brilliant of course, but adding that personal touch makes them even better.

With the launch of the R nineT, BMW Motorrad recognised the trend towards individualisation early on and has taken significant steps into this segment by enlarging the R nineT family to include five models in 2017. BMW Motorrad is now expanding its individualisation range with BMW Motorrad Spezial and is offering distinctive-design, performance-enhancing and exclusive customisation options ex works.

When customising his motorcycle, the customer can proceed in two different ways. On the one hand he can equip his motorcycle directly ex works with all the visual upgrading by ordering it with the Spezial equipment already installed. On the other hand he will be able to choose special accessories from a “Spezial World” in the future where all his high customisation demands will be met. This means that the customer will still be able to customise his motorcycle via the dealer in the traditional way.

So get down to your BMW showroom and start specing.

'Sons of Anarchy' came out on DVD and Blu-ray and Chesca Miles was there

Vogue model and motorbike stunt rider Chesca Miles wheeled in to Bolt show rooms in East London to meet fans of the hit US show to mark its release on Blu-ray and DVD. It was unveiled by the UK's first professional female stunt rider who said: "I'm thrilled to be launching Sons of Anarchy here at the leather carpet premiere as I love the show! I'm a motorbike fanatic and it's great to have a mainstream badass show that revs peoples interest in bikes, I was a model for ten years and it's been my ambition to combine this with my love of motorbikes, my life in the stunt lane is adventurous and addictive."

Stunt girl Chesca Miles has become Britain's only professional girl trick biker. "It's been tough and I have not had much support," admitted the glamorous Londoner. "The girls are jealous and the boys resent the fact that I am woman who can ride a bike as well as or better than them". Chesca began riding bikes at the age of just 14 and by the time when she was old enough to hold a road licence, already was an experienced rider. Chesca performs her thrilling daredevil stunts at shows all over the country - in between modelling. "I love being on the catwalk and in front of the camera but not as much as being on a bike. Stunt work is not just about high-speed chases - it's also about control, balance and mastery of the machine."

Virtual Reality Test Drive with Mazda

CX-5 goes on a shopping centre tour with a difference

Mazda is bringing its new compact SUV to some of Britain's most popular retail attractions this summer, offering shoppers the chance to see the car in the metal, and experience an immersive virtual reality test drive.

Using VR goggles whilst seated in the car, visitors to the Mazda stand can choose from either a driver's or passenger's perspective as they enjoy a thrilling virtual drive around the famous Longcross test track in Surrey. Available on a first come first served basis and free to all, Mazda's simulated drive takes to the challenging tarmac of the test track used by many of the UK's car manufacturers and magazines for vehicle testing.

Shoppers visiting the Mazda stand can also request an interactive digital brochure sent instantaneously via email or SMS. Commenting on the all-new CX-5 shopping centre tour, Mazda UK Marketing Communications Manager,

Kim Crawford said "with virtual reality our aim is to create a sense of oneness with the car through an immersive experience. You literally get a test drive experience on a track, whilst sat inside the all-new Mazda CX-5 without leaving the building. We hope this will bring prospective customers much closer to the vehicle itself, allowing them to appreciate the quality of both the interior and exterior of the car."

TOP 5 USED TRIKES

If you haven't got a motorcycle licence then the world of two wheeled fun is just out of reach. However, if you are happy to compromise with three wheels then a number of possibilities open up. To be honest, some are more exciting than others. So here is a brief guide to motors that have a wheel missing. Take care.

RELIANT REGAL

Here is the most famous three wheeler in the world. It is important to remember that the van version was not a Robin. This example ended up at Beaulieu in the 'On Screen Cars' exhibition, which showcases a number of TV and film favourites including Del Boy's Reliant Regal as featured in the BBC sitcom Only Fools and Horses.

VS TRIKE

Well the one we took a picture of seems to have a Ford Thunderbird rear end, up front is a Ford V8 and a set of handlebars. That is about all you need. At the back there is usually a Jaguar differential which can handle all that V8 power. The '50s flame paint job is just part of the appeal.

PIAGGIO APE

If you have spent any time in Europe you would have seen these scooter van hybrids. Free Car Mag cover stars Jennifer Saunders as Eddy and Joanna Lumley as Patsy in Absolutely Fabulous: The Movie has been put on show at Beaulieu. They used it as an improbable getaway vehicle and ended up in the Med.

RELIANT RIALTOS

Incredibly the three wheel Reliants kept going into the '80s. The roofless Reliant Rialtos driven by Chris Evans and Matt LeBlanc in their first road trip challenge of the BBC's new Top Gear series have gone on display at Beaulieu. Matt's car even had to be carried part of the way on a flatbed truck. Chris described Matt's car as the "worst car in the world".

CARVER

Well here is a very strange thing. Part car, part bike, but mostly mad. This is a one seater. According to the Dutch company the idea was to make a man-wide-vehicle that was safe to drive: A Slender Comfort Vehicle (SCV). Over 200 Carver One vehicles were produced and we want one.

Jaguar's sports car gets a gutsy 4 cylinder engine

JAGUAR F-TYPE

Here is the people's F Type which brings together Jaguar's all-aluminium two-seat sports car with the advanced 300PS 2.0-litre turbocharged powerplant delivers enhanced agility and improved efficiency and affordability. The new model retains the performance expected from the F-TYPE, and can accelerate from 0-60mph in only 5.4 seconds and achieve a top speed of 155mph. The turbocharged engine's high maximum torque of 400Nm, generated from just 1,500rpm, together with the eight-speed Quickshift transmission, delivers exceptional response throughout the rev range.

UPMARKET EXPLORER

Jack Jarmoszko enjoys hiking expeditions. Vehicle must have decent boot space and quality finish inside. Has £20K to spend.

A CAR FOR THE HEAD AUDI Q5

It seems that Jack is going to need a four-wheel drive and to quote him, 'German build quality' especially inside. Indeed, the best interiors for some time have been made by Audi. The Q5 is a very capable SUV. There is the option of the more estate like Audi Allroad. Which is an estate car with a four-wheel drive system rather than being a true off roader. The Q5 wins because it looks cooler and £20K will buy a 2011 2.0 TDi 143 Quattro SE with 50,000 miles, one owner and history for £16,700.

A CAR FOR THE HEART VOLKSWAGEN TIGUAN

Jack may not need a full on 4 x 4, some four wheel drive ability will be useful but not in the usual extra large package. The Volkswagen Tiguan is worth investigating as a German compact soft roader, which drives just like a car. Indeed, it is a bit like a 4 x 4 Golf, but has a useful amount of flexibility as the rear seat slides to increase the amount of boot space. A 2014 2.0 TDi Blue Motion Tech Match which will average 48mpg, cost £14,270 and have just 14,000 miles on the clock.

QUESTION

Janet Magill is looking for a small, simple car and wants power steering. Has a maximum budget of around £2500.

A CAR FOR THE HEAD TOYOTA YARIS

Janet should seriously think about the Toyota Yaris. It is a small hatchback but it has a high set, people carrier like driving position. The Yaris is a great little car that is economical, reliable and despite its size, spacious. The upright seating helps but so does the rear seat which slides back and forward giving Janet the option of more passenger, or more luggage space. A tidy 2005 1.0 VVTi Spirit with 92K miles should return 50mpg and will cost £1595 and come with a six month warranty.

A CAR FOR THE HEART SUZUKI SWIFT

A more interesting buy might be a Suzuki Swift, which is small but spacious. It is nicely styled and slightly sporty to drive, plus being a Suzuki it has a superb reputation for reliability. A 2006 Swift 1.5 GLX three door would be fun to own and should still manage 43mpg overall. The specification includes air conditioning, 15 inch alloys and a full service history. So with 46,000 miles and two former keepers, it will cost £2477 and come with a full years MOT. Janet should be pleased with this classy little car.

MINI BREAK

MINI partners with VisitEngland and Visit Wales to offer unique experiences in a MINI Countryman so that some very lucky people can stay in some of the most remarkable locations

MINI's biggest car will be equipped with a special rooftop tent to provide an exclusive 'Room with a view' in areas of outstanding natural beauty that are normally off limits.

Members of the public are being given the chance to stay in one of three of the UK's beautiful locations: Durdle Door on the world famous Jurassic Coast in Dorset; the stunning Cheddar Gorge with a backdrop of dramatic cliffs in Somerset, and the majestic glacial mountain range of Snowdonia in Wales.

MINI has launched the experiences in response to a rise in domestic tourism: new research commissioned by MINI from OnePoll shows nearly half of us are more likely to go on a spontaneous break in the UK than we have been in the past decade.

According to VisitEngland, Brits took 44.7 million domestic holidays in England (trips of at least one night) in 2016, up 2% on 2015. This year, Brits also took a record 11.4 million holiday trips in England.

In a staycation like no other, guests will get to experience the wonders of the UK, by entering a ballot to win a 'money can't buy' experience; sleeping in a specially designed luxury roof tent by AUTOHOME, atop the MINI Countryman in a site specifically chosen for them. Guests will be fully immersed in nature and its surroundings – sleeping in comfort under the star-lit skies, and waking up to a breathtakingly beautiful sunrise.

The locations on offer include: sleeping atop a cliff looking down on the stunning beach and vista of Durdle Door in the world famous World Heritage Site, the Jurassic Coast in Dorset; a stay by the majestic, carved, glacial mountains of Snowdonia, where you could have breakfast looking over the stunning Ffynnon Llugwy lake, or a visit to the truly epic, Lord of the Rings style vista of Cheddar Gorge in the Mendip Hills in Somerset. Lucky winners will be able to tell their friends that they woke up in one of the greatest natural wonders in Britain.

PATTI CAKES

Danielle Macdonald plays aspiring rapper Patricia Dombrowski, a.k.a. Killa P, a.k.a. Patti Cake$. Fighting an unlikely quest for glory in her downtrodden hometown in Jersey where her life is falling apart, Patti tries to reach the big time in the hip hop scene with original and affecting music. Cheered on by her grandmother (Cathy Moriarty) and only friends, Jheri (Siddharth Dhananjay) and Basterd (Mamoudou Athie), Patti also shoulders her mother's (Bridget Everett) heartaches and misfortunes.

Free Car Mag are not bothered about all the rapping and real life drama. Nope, we just want to drink in the majesty of a 1980s Cadillac Fleetwood.

GAME OF THRONES

There are no cars in GOT sadly, however when season 2 came out they did this White walker stunt over Tower bridge and we can see some cars in that. Anyway Season 7 has been brilliant so far and we have even spotted Ed Sheeran singing a song. "I just do a scene with Maisie Williams who plays Arya Stark," he said. "I sing a song and then she goes, 'Oh, that's a nice song.'" He's also revealed: "I don't die," and added, "I'm only in it for like five minutes."

Plus we have seen plenty of Dragon action. Brilliant.

GRITTY COPS AND DRUG DEALER DRAMA

THE WIRE

'The Wire' - was on telly from 2002 to 2008 and is based in Baltimore, Maryland, focusing on the goings on around the illegal drug trade, city government and print media.

The series was created by former police reporter David Simon, it explores American urban culture, documenting the lives of addicts, dealers, police officers and politicians caught up in a world of crime.

The show made a star of British actor Dominic West, who played the troubled detective Jimmy McNulty throughout its six-year run. 'The Wire' was widely commended for its use of unknown character actors, as opposed to household names, in order to create a greater sense of realism.

Despite being frequently overlooked for major television awards, the show has been praised by critics and fans for its realistic portrayal of urban life. There is also a lot of American cop cars in it which is perfect for a night in box setting it on the Free Car Mag sofa.

HARD BOILED SWEETS

Set in Southend, here is a low budget gangster flick which at least has a lot of plot development in cars and at one point we spot a rather nice BMW Z4. This film did get a major distribution from Universal and made it into some cinemas, so it isn't the usual straight to DVD fodder. The plot is wonderfully complicated, there is Porsche The Sherbet Lemon and Johnny the Glacier Mint so there is a sweet theme going on. Yes it is hard as a stick of Southend Rock with blood running all the way through.

AMERICAN ASSASSIN

AMERICAN ASSASSIN follows the rise of Mitch Rapp (Dylan O' Brien), a CIA black ops recruit under the instruction of Cold War veteran Stan Hurley (Michael Keaton). The pair are then enlisted by CIA Deputy Director Irene Kennedy (Sanaa Lathan) to investigate a wave of apparently random attacks on both military and civilian targets. Together the three discover a pattern in the violence leading them to a joint mission with a lethal Turkish agent (Shiva Negar) to stop a mysterious operative (Taylor Kitsch) intent on starting a World War in the Middle East. There are cars in it, not just the Renault Megane pictured.

THE GRADUATE

ICONIC COMING OF AGE FILM WITH AN ALFA ROMEO SPIDER

THE GRADUATE

Oscar-winning comedy drama starring Dustin Hoffman who gets to drive one of the most beautiful cars of the 1960s, an Alfa Romeo Spider. Hoffman plays an aimless college graduate who is drawn into an affair with a middle-aged woman, played by Anne Bancroft and his girlfriend is the long suffering Katharine Ross who at least gets to sit in an Alfa Romeo Spider. This is a fast, funny, comedy drama directed by Mike Nichols, whose Academy Award was the only Oscar that the film won. Great performances from Hoffman, Bancroft and Ross, hopefully ensure that it will never be badly remade with Zac Efron. Not only that there is a great score from Simon and Garfunkel. The ending, which, spoiler alert, does involve that Alfa Romeo Spider..

KING OF SPIES

If Bond is a bit dull and Bourne a tad too worthy then thank goodness for the alt-007 Kingsman.

In case you missed the first film, “Kingsman: The Secret Service” introduced the world to Kingsman - an independent, international intelligence agency operating at the highest level of discretion, whose ultimate goal is to keep the world safe. In “Kingsman: The Golden Circle,” our heroes face a new challenge. When their headquarters are destroyed and the world is held hostage, their journey leads them to the discovery of an allied spy organisation in the US called Statesman, dating back to the day they were both founded. In a new adventure that tests their agents’ strength and wits to the limit, these two elite secret organisations band together to defeat a ruthless common enemy, in order to save the world, something that’s becoming a bit of a habit for Eggsy (Taron Egerton).

Directed by Matthew Vaughn, the movie stars the likes of Colin Firth, Julianne Moore, Halle Berry, Taron

Egerton, Mark Strong, Channing Tatum and Jeff Bridges.

“The Kingsman are back, saving the world,” says Matthew Vaughn. “The Statesman are the American cousins to the Kingsman.”

According to Colin Firth, “Matthew Vaughn is carving out a genre of his own here...He is pulling from comic books, from Bond, from superhero stuff, and more serious stuff like the Ipcress Files.”

Taron Egerton said at ComicCon earlier this year, “I know it sounds arrogant because I am in it, but I do think that it is brilliant...It has a very distinct personality (Vaughn) likes to surprise you. If you liked the first Kingsman movie, you will love this. It has what the first one has but with a shot of adrenaline.”

Channing Tatum explained his involvement in Kingsman, “I was a straight up fan of this one, just a fan, fan. When it came out it was so fresh and new...I just wanted to be a part of it...I play Tequila...I was a rodeo clown and that’s where they came and found me.”

Jeff Bridges explains who the Statesman are, “We are brewers. we make bourbon in Kentucky.” And on Matthew Vaughn, “A wonderful director, my favourite kind...he sets the vibe. He is very relaxed.”

Finally, Colin Firth makes it clear that tongues are firmly in cheeks when it comes to playing his role, Harry Hart. “The irony is alive and well. I don’t think I would have been invited into a genre like this if it had been straight faced. I’ve had offers for action type roles but without a sense of humour they don’t work for me.”
